Power of Spiritual Wisdom: Joyful Journey to Enlightenment Michael Pambar
Spirituality is not about renouncing the material world. Rather it is realizing it and enjoying it from a different vantage point. Once you realize your true nature — you will be burning the torch of your life joyfully from both ends — spiritually and materially, enjoying the glitter and glow. Self-engineering is a process — a joyful journey within to realize who you really are. It is a personal inner revolution on the voyage to vibrant happiness that changes the way you are and the way you live the precious gift of life. The way an engineer simplifies things to make life comfortable — you will engineer your inner world to make life an easier, ecstatic, natural and blissful experience. Self-engineering is like going directly to the manufacturer, to the Creator. Instead of going to a small street mechanic to solve all your life issues.
